

What People Are Saying About the Dynamic Ventilator Reserve

Kaiser Permanente is happy to have been able to participate in this program during the pandemic. The DVR program is great to be part of, knowing that ventilators are being used where and when the most critical patients and hospitals need them. It is always about providing quality care to the patient and knowing we can collaborate through AHA to deliver that has provided us incredible peace of mind.

The DVR is an example of how the AHA solves problems in a way that is a win-win. Not only did another hospital get much-needed ventilators, but our staff were extremely proud to be able to help a colleague in need.

Through the uncertainty of this pandemic, having an adequate volume of equipment has been a top concern for most health care systems. We are grateful for the relief the AHA vent reserve was able to provide us during this time. Knowing that more equipment was on the way provided peace of mind for our health care workers, as well as the ability to support additional patients. Thank you to the AHA and all supporting health care systems!
